Section C-2.1 Principles We, the member congregations of the Unitarian Universalist Association, covenant to affirm and promote <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – The inherent worth and dignity of every person. – Justice, equity, and compassion in human relations. – Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations. – A free and responsible search for truth and meaning. – The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large. – The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all. – Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part. 	13 Section C-2.2 Values and Covenant 14 As Unitarian Universalists, we covenant, congregation-to-congregation and through our 15 Association, to support and assist one another in our ministries. We draw from our heritages of 16 freedom, reason, hope, and courage, building on the foundation of love. 17 Love is the power that holds us together and is at the center of our shared values. We are 18 accountable to one another for doing the work of living our shared values through the spiritual 19 discipline of Love. 20 Inseparable from one another, these shared values are: 22 Interdependence. We honor the interdependent web of all existence. With reverence for the 23 great web of life and with humility, we acknowledge our place in it. 24 We covenant to protect Earth and all beings from exploitation. We will create and nurture 25 sustainable relationships of care and respect, mutuality and justice. We will work to repair harm 26 and damaged relationships. 27 Pluralism. We celebrate that we are all sacred beings, diverse in culture, experience, and 28 theology. 29 We covenant to learn from one another in our free and responsible search for truth and 30 meaning. We embrace our differences and commonalities with Love, curiosity, and respect. 31 Justice. We work to be diverse multicultural Beloved Communities where all thrive. 32 We covenant to dismantle racism and all forms of systemic oppression. We support the use of 33 inclusive democratic processes to make decisions within our congregations, our Association, 34 and society at large. 35 Transformation. We adapt to the changing world. 36 We covenant to collectively transform and grow spiritually and ethically. Openness to change is 37 fundamental to our Unitarian and Universalist heritages, never complete and never perfect. 38 Generosity. We cultivate a spirit of gratitude and hope. 39 We covenant to freely and compassionately share our faith, presence, and resources. Our 40 generosity connects us to one another in relationships of interdependence and mutuality. 41 Equity. We declare that every person has the right to flourish with inherent dignity and 42 worthiness. 43 We covenant to use our time, wisdom, attention, and money to build and sustain fully accessible 44 and inclusive communities.

Article C-2-1 Principles (continued) The living tradition which we share draws from many sources: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Direct experience of that transcending mystery and wonder, affirmed in all cultures, which moves us to a renewal of the spirit and an openness to the forces which create and uphold life; 2. Words and deeds of prophetic people which challenge us to confront powers and structures of evil with justice, compassion and the transforming power of love; 3. Wisdom from the world's religions which inspires us in our ethical and spiritual life; 4. Jewish and Christian teachings which call us to respond to God's love by loving our neighbors as ourselves; 5. Humanist teachings which counsel us to heed the guidance of reason and the results of science, and warn us against idolatries of the mind and spirit; 6. Spiritual teachings of Earth-centered traditions which celebrate the sacred circle of life and instruct us to live in harmony with the rhythms of nature. Grateful for the religious pluralism which enriches and ennobles our faith, we are inspired to deepen our understanding and expand our vision. As free congregations we enter into this covenant, promising to one another our mutual trust and support.	Section C-2.3. Inspirations. 46 Direct experiences of transcending mystery and wonder are primary sources of Unitarian 47 Universalist inspiration. These experiences open our hearts, renew our spirits, and transform 48 our lives. We draw upon, and are inspired by, sacred, secular, and scientific understandings 49 that help us make meaning and live into our values. These sources ground us and sustain us 50 in ordinary, difficult, and joyous times. We respect the histories, contexts, and cultures in which 51 these sources were created and are currently practiced. Grateful for the experiences that move 52 us, aware of the religious ancestries we inherit, and enlivened by the diversity which enriches 53 our faith, we are called to ever deepen and expand our wisdom.

Section C-2.3. Inclusion. Systems of power, privilege, and oppression have traditionally created barriers for persons and groups with particular identities, ages, abilities, and histories. We pledge to replace such barriers with ever-widening circles of solidarity and mutual respect. We strive to be an association of congregations that truly welcome all persons and commit to structuring congregational and associational life in ways that empower and enhance everyone's participation.	Section C-2.4. Inclusion. 55 Systems of power, privilege, and oppression have traditionally created barriers for persons 56 and groups with particular identities, ages, abilities, and histories. We pledge to replace 57 such barriers with ever-widening circles of solidarity and mutual respect. We strive to be 58 an Association of congregations that truly welcome all persons who share our values. We 59 commit to being an Association of congregations that empowers and enhances everyone's 60 participation, especially those with historically marginalized identities.
Section C-2.4. Freedom of Belief. Nothing herein shall be deemed to infringe upon the individual freedom of belief which is inherent in the Universalist and Unitarian heritages or to conflict with any statement of purpose, covenant, or bond of union used by any congregation unless such is used as a creedal test.	Section C-2.5. Freedom of belief. 62 Congregational freedom and the individual's right of conscience are central to our Unitarian 63 Universalist heritage. 64 Congregations may establish statements of purpose, covenants, and bonds of union so long 65 as they do not require that members adhere to a particular creed.
